VOL. II. NO. 17.

CHICAGO, TUESDAY, APRIL 14, 1896.

PRICE, 10 CENTS

NO CALIFORNIAN HANDICAPPERS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Apr. 6, 1896.—It looks now as though California would not have a representative in any of the Eastern Handicaps. When I wrote before I reviewed the chances of Vincitor, Bright Phoebus and Claudius. It will be remembered that I said the latter could not live with a Suburban field if turned loose with nothing on his back. Mr. Boots evidently thought the same, for the horse was speedily declared. Vincitor has gone off completely and just now a good selling plater could beat him. I understand that Mr. Boots has decided not to go East at all. His horses will be given a much needed let up after the racing season ends here.

I do not believe that Vincitor is anything at his best but a high class sprinter. I do not believe that he can beat any fair horse a mile and a quarter, but just good and fresh, is a real useful horse at a mile or less. On his present form, Lovedal is a better horse at a mile and a quarter than Vincitor. Libertine is fifteen pounds better than Lovedal. One can figure Vincitor's chances in a handicap like the suburban from this.

Bright Phoebus's future is in doubt, as is the stable of Mr. Hobart. The latter, who is to be married in May, is not giving much attention to his stable. Nearly everything in the barn is turned out and there are rumors of a complete change in the stable management. It is safe to say that Bright Phoebus will not be seen at the post in the early spring handicaps in the East.

Crescendo is himself again and shows no ill effects from his recent accident. He forever dissipated the idea that he will not go a route by giving away weight to everything in the Burns handicap at a mile and a quarter last week and being beaten two heads on the post in a grand race. With a race in him he could not have lost. John Gissens, his trainer, is pointing the good colt toward the National Derby at St. Louis and will ship next week.

Speaking of Crescendo's race in the Derby at St. Louis recalls the fact that the event would have been run at Harlem in Chicago had not fanaticism run riot last year. The race will probably witness the meeting of Ben Brush and Crescendo, the crack colts of the East and West. Chicagoans will still be able to see the race, although there is quite a difference between going 276 miles, and having the classic event on home ground. St. Louis, however, is well able to take care of the event, which promises a grand contest.

Caspar has shown himself pounds the best two-year-old to start in California this season. He beat Coupon off the only time they met. Rowena B, a Maxim youngster, is about the best of the fillies. Both belong to Burns and Waterhouse.

By the way, the Maxims have shown up grandly so far. Dolce, the full sister to Crescendo is the image of her illustrious brother, but crazy as a flea. I do not look for much from her.

JOS. A. MURPHY.

NEW YORK TURF GOSSIP.

NEW YORK, April 13.—Colonel R. W. Simmons has been appointed a judge by the Jockey Club, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John S. Hoey.

Jockeys Griffin and Hewitt, who will ride for the Blenton stable this season, have reported to Trainer Hyland at the Bennings track.

Susan Ann, the two-year-old namesake of Thora's famous dam, that won in England for Mr. Croker, is by Merry Hampton, dam Stethoscope, by Speculum, and one of the purchases abroad last year.

A. H. & D. H. Morris have ordered two of the Brown starting machines. One is to be sent to the Texas ranch and the other to the Morris Farm in Maryland.

Clay & Woodford have filed with the Jockey Club a transfer to J. E. Madden of two entries for the Futurity of 1897. The two are a bay or a brown colt by Hindoo—Deone and a brown colt by Hindoo—Richochet.

Sam Doggett has signed to ride for the Erie Stable and will be on Lazzarone in the Brooklyn and Suburban. There is some hitch over Doggett's license.

Brighton Beach threatens to spend $65,000 or so in a steel grand stand 250 feet long by 64 feet wide. It is to be finished by July 1.

Ben Brush is credited with sulking in his work at Gravesend by a few sensationists. No one of good judgement credits the tale. The colt is doing well and will go to Louisville for the Kentucky Derby.

JOCKEY CLUB GAINS GROUND.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 13.—The Bartlett bill, a measure built on Jockey Club dictation and Percy-Gray law lines will be adopted for the regulation of racing in the District of Columbia. The bill authorizes the incorporation of racing clubs and permits them to hold meetings yearly between April 30 and November 1, and between sunrise and sunset, and there can not be more than forty days of racing on any track in a season. A Racing Commission is to be established to supervise meetings. All races must be held under the New York Jockey Club rules, and steeplechasing under the National Steeplechase Association. Amendments have been added to the bill to prevent pool selling and betting. Not only are heavy penalties provided, but bets are to be recovered by civil action.

RACING IN VENEZUELA.

J. L. Washburn an outlaw boy has been riding in Venezuela. He tells an interesting story of the country and its racing. He states that the meetings are held on Sundays, and the distances of the races range from 700 to 2,000 metres; that is, from three and a half furlongs to two miles. The purses hung up average from $1,000 to $1,500. The races are run the reverse way of the tracks. The attendance runs from five to eight thousand people every Sunday.

The betting is done by the mutual pool system, in the old blackboard and chalk style, indicating machines being unknown. There is plenty of money in the country, and the betting is brisk on the events. The race track, the jockey says, is prettily situated between two hills and only a mile and a half from Caracas, the capital of the country.

Washburn saw about a dozen of horses there from the United States, and he says the well-known turf veterans Contest, The Coon, and Southside are Salvators and Hanovers there in their winning ability.

McKeever Defeats Griffo.

NEW YORK, April 13.—Young Griffo and Chas McKeever fought twenty rounds in the Empire Club to-night. Griffo was not fit and only his cleverness saved him from being finished. He lost though on the referee's decision. It was just.

Racing Folks are Coming.

It looks as if Chicago would be as full of racing people this spring as in the old days. A big brigade came in from San Francisco yesterday. More are on the way. The Quinns, John and Charles, both smooth of raiment as ever, Johnny Coleman and Mark Elias led the procession. Cal Elliot, who will preside over the foreign books at the Indiana tracks, came in from New Orleans.

LADY INEZ WINS THE OAKS.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 13.—Lady Inez won the Tennessee Oaks today in a walk, but it was one of the closest drawn finishes ever seen in a race. Perkins stopped the mare almost to a walk at the sixteenth pole, and simply played with Helen Mar. The track was fetlock deep in sloppy mud and it rained hard all during the races. Paterson's Great Lily Suisun won her third consecutive race and did it in true racehorse fashion. Another offer of $4,000 was refused for her. Five favorites won, and the ring of eighteen books was hit hard. Tom Ryan had a swell bet on Tartarian. Pat Cunne's Agent outworked Green Jacket this morning.

A French Decision on Betting.

Bookmaking at French races has been declared illegal by the Court of Appeal, which declares that the only form of betting allowed by the law of 1891 in the pari mutual conducted by the racing societies themselves. In the test case brought before it, a bookmaker had offered odds in the paddock, not in the field, and all the bets registered were with regular clients known personally to him, while the accounts were not settled on the course. He was condemned to fifteen days' imprisonment and a fine of 3,000 francs. The Chamber of Deputies will be asked to change the law.

GOSSIP OF THE TURF.

The Californian racing scandal has almost been filed away, so "present"—so to speak—is the public, as it is known to the turf. Its individual figures were landed by the proper officials—those of Bay District; where Little Pete & chose to brouse on account of the large and miscellaneous fields, Judge Burke and his associates are entitled to much credit for uncovering the plot. It was as broad in its way, as that of the "colored trust" at Washington Park. But no less in credit stand Capt. Rees and Joe Murphy of the Ingleside track. Their side-tracked "Dutch" Heinrichs, who was the chief plotter on the riding side, long before Pete and his operations were exposed. As members of the Turf Congress License Committee, Messrs. Rees and Murphy refused Heinrichs and thus drove him to the cautious angle. Bay District suffered only because of the miscellaneousness of its racing. The action of the officials made all amends.

Ed Corrigan's racing stock for 1898 is piling up at Midway, Ky., where the recent foals have been:

March 2—Philippa, by Philammon, a chestnut filly by Montana Regent.

March 10—Derohment, by Outcast, a bay colt (full brother to Kowalsky), by Isaac Murphy.

March 19—Nonsense, by Powhattan, a bay filly by Riley.

March 2—Seclusion, (sister to Joe Murphy), by Isaac Murphy, a bay filly by Riley.

March 17—Ada Glenn, by Glenelg, a chestnut colt by Montana Regent.

March 2—Little Casino, by Longfellow, a bay colt by Montana Regent.

March 9—Pike's Peak, by Lelaps, a bay colt by Isaac Murphy.

March 19—Ray B., by Longfellow, a bay colt by Montana Regent.

March 20—Idol, by Pat Mulloy, a bay colt by Riley.

March 13—Miss Howard, by King Alfonso, a chestnut filly by Riley.

March 20—Ethel, by Longfellow, a chestnut filly by Montana Regent. This is this great race mare's first foal.

March 27—Una (dam of Early Blossom, Unicorn, Tonganoxie, etc.), by War Dance, a dead foal.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

Flying Dutchman is doing well in his Memphis work.

Cash Day is hardly likely to race again. His bad leg is very bad.

Hugh E. Keough, who has ably conducted the sporting department of the New Orleans Item all winter, is in town.

"A stranger" is said to have taken $10,000 out of the Memphis ring over Linda's victory last Friday. In bills or breath?

There is a foreign book at Newport and the probabilities point to one being operated at Louisville, Oakley and Latonia.

The starting machine will have as good a test as it has ever had, and be shown to the Chicago public at Forsyth next Wednesday.

Simon W., in the Fleischmann stable, is said to be one of the most improved horses in training that critical eyes have seen this spring.

Col. Louis M. Clark has not landed in Cincinnati yet, and Col. Jack Chinn is presiding judge at Oakley. Kit Chinn is starting in his father's place.

Forsyth is ready for racing now, so far as the course is concerned. Its deep dress of Indiana clay will sharpen the speed of the course several seconds.

The English great Metropolitan stakes at 2¼ miles, for which Kilsallaghan, Banquet II, Merrywise, Rockdove and fifteen others are eligible is run today.

Barney Schreiber has sold his fast pacing sire Wilson whom Orrin Hickok declared would have made a record of 2:06 or better but for an injury to his leg.

Old Ems died in Kentucky a few days ago. She was seventeen years old, by Lisbon—Emete, by Asteroid. Pilgrim and Tom Rogers were the best of her children.

Tully Coulter, not having succeeded, according to Leigh reports of "eating himself to death" among the fleshpots of South Louisville, is back in Chicago, some two days ahead of his horses.

Fleischmann & Son's horses left Cincinnati Friday for Morris Park, in charge of Trainer R. Tucker. Halma, the handicap candidate, is among the number, and is said to be all right again.

When Pat Dunne bought Patrician last year, Phil Dwyer promised to take him back if the buyer wasn't suited. Pat tried the horse, but has returned him and he is now in the Dwyer stable at Gravesend.

The Owners' and Breeders' Association, which made such a cheap move two months ago, is to get into meeting and action again next Monday at Lexington. The jockey fees question is said to be cause of proposed action this time.

Mike Dwyer is said to have bet $1,000 on Ben Brush at 4 to 1 for the Kentucky Derby, and to have sought another bet of $1,000 at 3½ to 1. But the news comes from Lexington, and such news is extremely unreliable news nowadays.

The Newport meeting opened in a blaze of glory, and is likely to be very successful. Bonham & Gest, the contractors who did the work of the handsome establishment, presented Secretary J. G. Hanly with a massive silver key to the main gate before Saturday's racing began.

Supt. W. P. Maxwell, of Barney Schreiber's farm, writes: The brood mares and foals all look fine. The Balgovan—Pennyroyal colt looks like a stake horse already. There will soon be a choice collection of brood mares at Woodlands.

"Curle" Brown has his starting machine, that was successful in New Orleans, at Cincinnati. He is dealing with the Newport, Oakley and Latonia officials for its use, and will erect sample machines for a test on the Ohio-Kentucky tracks.

Another Starting Machine.

Another starting machine has turned up at Cincinnati. W. B. Smith is its patentee. It is a gate six feet high which goes across the track. The horses are lined up before it, a lever is touched and instantaneously the gate, parting in the middle, disappears in a four-inch trench. The top part, or rail, of the gate is rubber, the color of the track, and makes a firm and unyielding substitute covering for the trench encasing the gate. The gate is composed exclusively of rubber and strong steel springs, has nothing to get out of repair, makes no noise, and is easily transportable.
